Chief of Police

Key West

POLICE DEPARTMENT

To whom it may concern:

This letter is in support of the ASK - Autism Society of the Keys. As Chief of Police for the Key West Police Department I have personally partnered with Jill Campbell, executive director of ASK, to help provide training to both our department and our community for several years now. We also regularly attend the monthly meetings in Key West, as well as events and fundraisers. We are grateful that their meetings have provided a platform for us to communicate and answer questions that our special needs community has. We have also worked together to create autism sensory boxes. The sensory boxes have been a great success and very helpful in emergency situations. Due to our isolated location, I do not know of any other resource that has been able to provide supplies, guidance, financial aid, emotional support, resources, educated guest speakers and just a wealth of support connecting families with autism like ASK. This organization is absolutely dedicated to helping families and children. It has truly been my pleasure to get to know them and I considered our department blessed to have them as a partner. I know that ASK works very hard to host charity events, fundraisers, and opportunities to raise funds to support their mission, but I also know they need the help of grants and the community to operate. I encourage you to partner with them. If you have any additional questions or would like to discuss this organization with me personally please feel free to contact me.

Respectfully,

A handwritten signature in green ink that reads "Sean T. Brandenburg".
